

If the FCC allows media consolidation, the general public will be stuck with more subjective, corporate-controlled information than ever. Money too often takes charge where the public interest is concerned, and the media is far from honest or objective as it is...don't let things slide further towards the benefit of the rich elite controlling what the rest of us know and hear about.